Our Philosophy

Channel View School for Research is a 6-12th grade school located in the "B" wing of the Beach Channel Educational Campus.

CVSR's educational focus is teaching a common core of concepts, skills and knowledge in an academically rigorous curriculum. Instruction fosters independent inquiry and critical thinking through collaborative learning and teaching. Classroom learning is reinforced through field trips that are both engaging and educational. This philosophy recognizes that all students can learn and there are many routes to knowledge.

Character development is greatly valued at CVSR, as seen by our students' participation in team-building initiatives and demonstration of the 15 words to live by. Students, in turn, develop a sense of self-reliance, community and confidence.

CVSR firmly believes that families are vital partners in forming strong connections between school, home and community.

Citizenship and community service are major components of CVSR. Students collaborate with community-based organizations and participate in food, clothing, and toy drives. Beach clean-ups and school recycling programs demonstrate our school's commitment to helping the environment.
